WHO MARRY AND HAVE CHILDREN IN AMERICA.

More than four-sevenths of the marriages in Massachuretts, are among the foreign born. Why is it? For the most simple of reasons, the foreign born can afford to get married, and the native born cannot; and this must be, so long as our extravagant modes of life continue. In social life there never was a people lending to deeper and more destructive social corruption—and that is most evident from the records of all the courts, and the odtumns of all the newspapers—than Americans. Our fathers used to tell of the protligacy of Paris; their children tell of the mysteries of New York—a city not behind any in Europe. And making proper allowance for size, how far is New York aheal of our other cities and towns?
Once was the time when a wife was a 'le'p-meet' now in a thousand of cases you can change the 'meet' to 'east,' and liman a reau floor trumour; We boast of our system of education:
we have female high schools, female colleges, female medical schools, and female beavens. Our girls are refined, learned, and wise; they can sing, dance, play pianos, talk French and Isalian, and the soft languages, write poetry, and love like Venuses. They are rendy to be courted at ten years, and can be taken from school and married at fifteen, and divorced at twenty. They make splendid shows on bridal tours, can coquett and flirt at the watering places, and shine like angels, at winter parties. But Heaven be kind to the poor wretch that marries in the fashionable circles. What are they at washing floors? Oh, we forgot; nobody has bare floors now—how vulgar that would be! What are they at making bread or boiling beef—why how thoughtless we are —to be sure they will board, or have servants. What are they at mending clothes?
But there we are out again; the fashions change so often that nobody has old clothes but the rag men and paper makers now!

Go it strong when you make a publi speech. Nine people out of ten neve take any allusion unless it cuts like a short

TO DESTROY THE EGGS OF THE CATERPILLAR IN ORCHARDS.—My plan for destroying the eggs of the common orchard caterpillar is as follows: Prepare a long pole, with two or three nails driven into one end of it, (resembling a fish spear,) and break or twist off the cucocus or balls, which contain the embryo caterpillar.— These are mostly on the lateral branches of the frait tree, and within six inclus of the end of the twig. An hour spent in waging war against this enemy before they 'hatch out,'' will save a day's time, for they are now defenceless, and can be completely exterminated. I have taket, off nearly one hundred nests in three or four hours' time, and not a worm is left to tell of their destruction.

This is sound practical truth. Fat pork was never designed for human food; it is material for breath, and nothing more, see Liebig and other organic chemists and physiologists; it makes no red meat or muscle; the prize fighter is not allowed to eat it; all that is not consumed by the lungs, remains to clog the body with fat.

Such acts show either a bad example by parents or companions, or considerable innate depravity, Boys, can you go to your mothers and sisters, and boast that you have robbed your neighbor? If so, then you have sunk deeper than many a man who has ended his days in a dungoen.

exhibited in a perpetual transmission of its seal in the flesh—a custom only of late relinquished.

The Phœnicians (Canaanites) had discovered the American continent five hundred years previous to the migration of the Israelites, and were, it is assumed, the builders of the pyramids of Mexico and Central America, Palenque, Cholula, Otumba, and Tlascala, and other cities of which the ruins now excite our astonishment; and were, also, the introducers of hieroglyphics, planispheres, zodiacs, temples, military roads, viaduets, and bridges, from models of Egypt, Tyre, Babylon, and Carthage. In the apoeryphal book of Esdras, of great antiquity, it is said: "Whereas thou sawest another peaceable multitude: these are the ten tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land, in the time of Osea, whom Psalmanzar, King of Assyria, led away captive, and he carried them over the waters, so they came into another land. They took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go into a further country, wherein mankind dwelt, that they might that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go into a further country, wherein mankind dwelt, that they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land (Assyria,) and there was a great way to go, namely a year and a-half."

The theory based on this passage is, there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own hand (Assyria) and there was a great way to go, namely a year and a-hail."

The theory based on this passage is, that the aforesaid tribes marched towards the north-east coast of Asia, some re-maining in Tartary, while many went to China, where they are known to be sixteen hundred years, and are still numerous to this day. The main body crossed at Behring's Straits to the American continent, the more rude and hardy keeping to the Northand the more rude and hardy keeping to the Northand the more cultivated passing down along the shores of the Pacifiic, through California to Mexico, Central America, and Peru, where they met their ancient enemies, the Canaanites, whom, as ome before, they dispossessed of their country.—Furthermore, it is urged that they dwelt in California when the ships of Solomon made their three years' voyages, and farnished the "gold of Ophir" to build the temple; also, that they were the settlers and possessors of Mexico, Peru, and the whole Continent, centuries prior to the advent of Christ. William Penn, in writing of the Indians, said:—"I found them with countenances like the Hebrew offer their first ripe fruits—they have a dark night, yet they believe in God and immortality, without the aid of metaphysics. They recken by moons—they offer their first ripe fruits—they have a dark night, yet they believe in God and immortality, without the aid of metaphysics. THE DRED SCOTT DECISION IN PRACTICE.

Slamming the last door of the first can dopening that of the second, the 'gentlemanly conductor' of the New York train made his appearance with his bow and smile, and 'tickets, gentlemen, if you please.'

Seated in the front corner surrounded by her personal conveniences, such as a carpet bag, umbrella, hig bundle, lating bundle, a few apples and pieces of cake, was a colored lady, whose face, the hue of an inverted saucepan, contrasting with her stoow white ivory and eyeballs, gave that pleasing African expression which is so often the type of humor and good nature.

'Ticket, ma'am,' says our conductor, with a civility regardless of complexion.

'I hasn't got 'em,' she replied, 'but I's got money, any way;' and she began to family her arrived the searching these articles through in vain.
